PLANS TO BE FORMULATED FOR RELIEF

Committee Constituted To Work Out Details From Suggestions Offered At Conference

As the result of a conference in the Willow Inn on Tuesday evening, when representatives of various city organizations and fraternal orders gathered at the request of the Kelowna Group, Toc H, to discuss the question of administration of relief this winter to city residents in destitute circumstances, a provisional committee was formed to work out the details of a plan from the many suggestions offered at the gathering and to submit the plan or plans to the organizations, as well as those not associated with any fraternity, in order to enlist the support of all in a position to do their bit in relieving genuine cases of distress.

As a permanent committee could not be appointed without the sanction of the various bodies who sent representatives, and as some of those organizations do not meet again until this fall, it was thought advisable to form a temporary committee on Tuesday to avoid loss of time in getting started. The committee is composed of the following: Mr. W. B. Hughes-Games, chairman; Mr. A. A. Ballard, Secretary; Mr. T. Pitt, Loyal Orange Lodge; Mr. A. Gibb, Canadian Legion; Mr. A. J. Hughes, Rotary Club; Mr. H. A. Blakeborough, Masonic Lodge; Mr. H. A. Willis, Toc H; Mr. H. deMontreuil, Knights of Columbus; Mr. F. Swainson, I.O.O.F.; Mr. H. Preston, Sons of England; Mr. W. N. Talbot, St. Michael and All Angels' Church; Mr. O. L. Jones, Canadian Economic Association; Messrs. J. Galbraith or D. Chapman, Gyro Club.

This committee will convene at an early date to outline a plan of operation similar to the community chest movement, but a permanent administrative body will come into being later.

Mr. Hughes-Games, Toc H Pilot, acted as chairman throughout the conference, calling upon the representatives of each organization in turn to present their views, and some valuable ideas were advanced during the evening.

Seasonal Employment Will Be Brief

In stating briefly the purpose of the meeting, the chairman pointed out the necessity of assisting those in need during the coming winter. The packing houses and canneries would be giving employment for a comparatively short period this winter, and conditions generally would not be favourable for those depending upon seasonal employment. Toc H had operated a soup kitchen for two months with success last year, and men, women and children had taken advantage of it. Toc H was a small organization, but if all bodies got together real assistance could be given. All receiving salaries the year round, for instance, could contribute, say, twenty-five cents a week. That was one suggestion advanced by Toc H.

All In Receipt Of Regular Incomes Should Help

Mr. Talbot, speaking at the request of the chair, averred that all in receipt of a regular income were morally bound to contribute something to those who had nothing. Universal brotherhood of man was the spirit behind Toc H. A committee should be formed to administer relief, and there should be a general committee of all clubs and organizations in the city. Some people in the city were too proud to apply for relief even when in dire need, while on the other hand there were those who would take an unjust advantage of charity. These would be matters for the committee to probe.

Mr. T. Pitt was in favour of the general idea. The relief question would be a serious problem this winter, and the sooner it was tackled the better. A working committee representative of every city organization was needed, and it should be picked from the gathering that night, but it would be necessary for such a committee to thoroughly investigate all cases.

The chairman stated that it was possible the city might appoint a relief officer to work in co-operation with other organizations, but nothing definite had yet been decided.

Work Wanted, Not Relief

That the word relief was a hateful one, was the opinion of Mr. R. Seale. What the needy wanted was not relief or the dole—they wanted work. He

AMY JOHNSON COMPLETES FLIGHT TO TOKYO

TOKYO, Aug. 6.—Amy Johnson, daring British aviatrix, landed at Tachikawa aerodrome today at the conclusion of a flight by easy stages from England. She was accompanied by C. S. Humphries.

First woman to fly from London to Tokyo via Siberia, Miss Johnson completed the flight in ten and one-half days and beat by a few hours the eleven-day record for light planes between the two cities, made by Seiji Yoshihara, Japanese aviator. Japanese and British officials greeted her and Humphries, her mechanic, a few minutes after her arrival.

LAKE CLAIMS WELL-KNOWN SWIMMER

Apparently Suffering Sudden Attack Of Illness, Henry Murdoch Sinks During Long Distance Swim

The second drowning fatality to occur in this district within a month cast a pall of gloom over the city and environs on Sunday morning, when it was learned that Henry Murdoch, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Murdoch, of Okanagan Mission, had drowned in Okanagan Lake while attempting a long distance swim from the Mission to the Aquatic Pavilion in preparation for the mile event at the forthcoming Regatta.

While making excellent progress in the strenuous distance effort, the swimmer suddenly disappeared in the deep water opposite Swordy's and was not seen again. Only a minute or two previous to his disappearance he assured John Acland, who accompanied the swimmer in a boat, that he was in good condition and not greatly tired. Acland then took his eyes off the swimmer to light a cigarette, but when he turned and scanned the water there was no trace of the unfortunate man. Alarmed, he dived into the lake in the vicinity his friend was last seen, but after swimming about for a time he rowed ashore and notified the police, who immediately organized a search party. In the absence of Provincial Constable Butler, who was out of the city on duty, Chief of Police Murdoch took charge of the search for the body, which, after several days effort, proved of no avail. The drowning occurred in deep water, making recovery difficult.

Henry Murdoch was a strong swimmer, having won several major events at the Kelowna Regatta in late years, and it seems unlikely that he would fall victim to any of the common causes of drowning without giving warning of some nature to his escort. It is believed that he was overcome by a sudden attack of illness.

Born in Kent, England, 21 years ago, Henry Ellis Murdoch came to the Mission at an early age. His sunny nature won for him a host of friends among young and old, who mourn his untimely passing. The sympathy of the community is extended to his parents, to his sister Mary, and to his two brothers, Peter and David, in their bereavement.

TWO PLANES MAY RACE FROM TOKYO TO SEATTLE

TOKYO, Aug. 6.—A non-stop race between two monoplane from Tokyo to Seattle, with a large cash award awaiting the winner, appeared as a possibility today with the arrival here by airplane and boat of four aviators.

Hugh Herndon and Clyde Pangborn, who abandoned their round-the-world flight in quest of the record set recently by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, landed near here today from Khabarovsk, Siberia. They announced at Khabarovsk that they would come to Japan to attempt a non-stop flight to Seattle.

Don Hoyle and C. A. Allan arrived from the United States with the announcement that they were contemplating a non-stop flight to the Puget Sound metropolis in the monoplane City of Tacoma, now in a hangar at the Tachikawa aerodrome. Seattle has offered a prize of $25,000 to the first pilot who makes the flight.

The City of Tacoma was brought to Japan last year by Harold Bromley and Harold Gatty, the latter Wiley Post's partner on the recent world-girdling flight that required but eight days, fifteen hours and fifty-one minutes. Bromley and Gatty flew twelve

BIG SILVER JUBILEE REGATTA

Twenty-Fifth Annual Event Bids Fair To Transcend In Every Way Its Predecessors

The stage is all set for the Interior of British Columbia's premier aquatic event, Kelowna's Silver Jubilee Regatta, which will be celebrated as never before in its history to mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the movement in the Orchard City. Back of the 1931 Regatta is a spirit of co-operation and an air of enthusiasm which has been lacking to some extent in recent years, and the result will be a strikingly evident on Wednesday and Thursday next, two memorable days in the annals of real sport in this city.

Apart from the usual features of the Regatta, there will be several added attractions this year—innovations of a nature to inject zest into the festivities and to keep the ball rolling every minute. The Queen Contest, for instance, which is being held to determine the First Lady of the Regatta and the crowning of whom promises to be a most colourful pageant, has aroused extraordinary interest, and the generous prizes, more than twenty in number, which will be distributed among lucky ticket holders is stimulating excitement in the contest to fever pitch.

A midway, operated by local organizations and the supplies for which are being purchased here, will be another new and inviting attraction for the amusement of patrons of the Silver Jubilee Regatta. Here, close to the Aquatic Pavilion and convenient of access, will be found entertainment features guaranteed to find favour with the most exacting—to say nothing of the refreshment booths that are being prepared to make mouths water and stimulate jaded appetites. Half of the net proceeds of the midway will be donated to the Kelowna General Hospital, while the other half will go to the Aquatic Association.

Coming to the aquatic sports, which, after all, have been the backbone of the annual event through the past quarter of a century, an innovation this year will be the staging of comedy stunts by the kids on or in the water on Thursday afternoon. These items are designed to fill in the gaps between events in order that the public may be kept entertained at all times, and some amusing acts are in the process of rehearsal.

The Regatta opens on Wednesday morning with youthful athletes displaying their prowess in swimming, plunging, sculling and diving. In the afternoon, there will be several launch and swimming races as well as diving and swimming for contestants old and young, including prizes for the three youngest children to complete the twenty-five yards swim. In the evening the Aquatic Pavilion will be the scene of a merry dance, which, as usual, will be repeated on the following evening.

Even a greater galaxy of youth and beauty than that presented on opening day will be seen competing in the swimming and diving events on Thursday morning. The chief events of this day will be the Open Four-oared Championships of Okanagan Lake for men and ladies' crews, which will struggle for supremacy in what should prove to be fast and interesting races. The Vancouver ladies will attempt to avenge their defeat at the recent N. P. A. O. Regatta at Burnaby Lake, and the Kelowna boys will endeavour to keep possession of the C.T.U. Cup in the struggle with Vancouver and Victoria oarsmen.

There will be two spectacular war canoe races, junior and senior, the latter between independent and co-operative fruit shipper.

The crowning of the Queen, the fireworks display and wrestling and boxing in the evening, in addition to the dance and other diversions, will wind up a crowded and eventful day. An open baseball game is scheduled for Thursday, at 5 p.m., when Revelstoke and Kelowna will give an exhibition of this popular sport. Revelstoke fans, besides bringing down their crack team, will arrive in force to support their ball-tossers from the side lines.

Old Man Gloom is leaving this part of the country on Wednesday and Thursday next. Avoid him by taking in Kelowna's Silver Jubilee Regatta.

REGISTRATION OF UNEMPLOYED SLOW

Only About Two Hundred Have Filled In Forms So Far

As is the case in most parts of the province, provincial government registration of the unemployed is not attracting a large number of men to the government offices in Kelowna, where registrations are recorded.

Since Monday, July 27th, when the Government Sub-Agent here was instructed to receive registrations, only about two hundred have responded. Some of these men filled in their forms at the Government Employment Office, at the City Police Station and a few at the City Office, but the city has since been advised to abandon taking registrations, consequently the work is now entirely in the hands of the government representatives here.

For the past two weeks an average of two hundred men a day have been receiving the forty-cent dole at the Sub-Agent's office on Bernard Avenue. Despite the fact that a number of the transient unemployed have been drafted to fight the forest fires raging in the district, the average has been well maintained, which would indicate that some at least are successfully evading the draft.

It is reported that the forty-cent orders for foodstuffs are being used in various ways. Some are being used to purchase meals at restaurants (cafes run by whites only are allowed), and many use their tickets to purchase supplies at the grocery stores. A few of the younger men have attempted to obtain cigarettes and tobacco with their orders, but these requests have been refused.

Every precaution possible is taken to give relief only to the needy, but it is obviously impossible to check up closely in every case.

FRESH INVASION OF DOUKHOBORS THREATENED

Premier Tolmie Protests To Minister Of Immigration Against Their Admission

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6.—Canada has the prospect today of more than twenty thousand Doukhobors migrating to the Dominion and joining communities of the sect in the Western provinces.

According to Peter Verigin, movement of the settlers from Russia will be started soon. In announcing the project here, he stated that all immigration requirements will be met. They will be supplied by their own people in Canada with land, homes, stock and farm implements. Though the Doukhobor chief did not say where the bulk of the settlement would take place, it was indicated that the immigrants would be scattered among the communities now in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

VICTORIA, Aug. 6.—Twenty thousand more Doukhobors would be welcome guests in British Columbia, Attorney-General Pooley stated today. He doubted the report that the federal government would admit them, with the immigration laws so tightened, and he thought that no province in Canada would open its gates to numbers of Doukhobors at this time. He believed that further reports from Ottawa would show that the federal government would not admit them.

Premier Tolmie is protesting to the Minister of Immigration against the admission of the Doukhobors.

(Later. Received at 2 1/2 p.m.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—The Doukhobors cannot qualify to enter Canada, it is stated by the Immigration Department, and no more will be admitted.

AUSTRALIA-ENGLAND FLIGHT RECORD IS BROKEN

LONDON, Aug. 6.—J. A. Mollison landed at Pevensey Bay, near Eastbourne, this afternoon, breaking the Australia to England flying record of ten days and twenty-three hours established by Lieut. C. W. A. Scott. The new time is eight days and thirteen hours.

FOREST FIRES CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE

Residence Of General Harman Falls Prey To Wind-Driven Embers From Glenmore Outbreak

Forest fires in various parts of the district that had been fairly well under control broke into renewed life on Sunday afternoon under the impelling influence of a high wind and blazed into a fury that rendered almost futile the efforts made to prevent spread of the flames. The outbreak on the Mission Range, in the Chute Lake area, presented a most picturesque, if destructive appearance, towering masses of billowy smoke clouds rising high into the air with a drift north and eastward. The blaze spread along the high country above the Kettle Valley Railway with tremendous rapidity and had covered miles by nightfall, when the wind abated and progress of the conflagration slowed down. The wind sprang up again on Monday, however, with renewed fury, rising at times to the strength of a gale, and whipped all the outbreaks into activity.

A bad fire north of Bear Creek menaced the homes of settlers in the Wilson Landing area, but it is understood that no houses have been destroyed, owing to the vigilance exercised and the heroic efforts of residents. The wind drove several separate outbreaks into one, sweeping a large tract and destroying much timber.

A blaze at Cedar Creek was checked by the prompt action of the Kelowna Sea Cadets, in camp there, as related elsewhere.

The most serious outbreak in the Kelowna district, so far as material damage was concerned, was one in the wooded country at the north end of Glenmore, which gave the residents in that area a most anxious time on Sunday and Monday. The danger was thought to be over after the wind subsided on Sunday evening, but the gale of Monday brought a renewal of trouble. Fanned to extraordinary fury, the blaze travelled with tremendous speed, leaping over intervening spaces without burning them, while glowing flakes of bark and other debris were carried far ahead of the main fire, spreading destruction far and wide. It was by this means that General Harman's fine residence, situated on the hillside south of the end of Duck Lake, fell a prey to the fire demon.

The General and his men had fought the advance of the fire strenuously and effectively, as they thought, backfiring and drenching as much as possible of the area to the westward of the house, but burning debris leaped across the intervening space upon the wings of the wind and came in such quantities that fires were kindled in many places at once and could not be quenched. The building that housed the ranch power plant was the first to go. The insulated wires connecting to the house blazed fiercely and were severed, but huge sparks arrived from other directions and soon the roof of the house was ablaze and nothing could be done to save it, the building being a total loss with all its contents. In fact, a clean sweep was made of every building on the ranch, including the well-house, situated near the Vernon road.

About all that was saved was a tractor and a motor car, the latter being set on fire by burning debris which lit on its roof while General and Mrs. Harman had turned into the main road to drive to Kelowna. Fortunately, the flame on the roof was detected by Mr. D. W. Crowley, at the Eldorado Store nearby, and it was quenched in time.

General Harman's loss is severe, but is fairly well covered by insurance, although, of course, many treasured articles cannot be replaced. His misfortune is intensified by the fact that this is the second time he has suffered destruction of his ranch home by fire, and he has the sincere sympathy of the whole district of which he is a highly esteemed resident. He has formed no definite plans but at present does not intend to rebuild.

True to the irony of fate, the efforts of the General and his helpers served to protect the property of nearby settlers from destruction while failing to avert disaster to his own homestead, and the damage in the adjacent vicinity consisted of little more than the burning over of stubble fields and range and pasture land.

Capt. O. V. Maude-Roxby, local Fire Warden, has had a most anxious

NEW SOUTH WALES SEIZES FLOUR FOR UNEMPLOYED

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Aug. 6.—Seeking to provide the unemployed with bread during a dispute with the master bakers, Premier Lang today authorized the seizure of a thousand tons of flour intended for early shipment abroad. The action created great excitement.

The government recently signed a contract with one company for the sole supply of "dole bread," but the master bakers refused to supply the company at the stipulated price. Flour millers, yeast makers and delivery organizations supported the bakers, and the unemployed were left without bread.

ROYALTY TO PARADE ON SATURDAY

Candidates For Throne Of Regatta Will Appear In Procession To Aquatic Pavilion

To the stirring accompaniment of bagpipes, alternated with the gala music of the City Band and the harmonious strains of the Kelownians Orchestra, Kelowna's pulchritudinous aspirants to the throne and crown of the Queen of the Silver Jubilee Regatta will be seen on parade on city streets on Saturday night, heralding the approach of the Okanagan's two big sports days, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, twenty-fifth anniversary of the Kelowna Regatta.

The parade is expected to start from a central point in the city at about 8 o'clock, with all the entrants in the Queen Contest on deck to give an optical treat to the large crowd of spectators anticipated. The throne, to which one of the young ladies will ascend on Thursday, will form a part of the procession. It will be mounted on a truck and will be unoccupied save for a huge question mark.

The regal party and its satellites will parade to the Aquatic Pavilion, where a dance, open to the general public, will begin at 9 p.m. Admission is a half-dollar, and all attending the dance will be entitled to participate in the distribution of the prizes which are to be given away in connection with the contest. The major award is the winner's choice of a round trip to Honolulu (hear those ukeleles sing!) or to the 1932 Olympics (a holiday and a half). Other prizes, now on display in the window of Thos. Lawson, Ltd., include an electric refrigerator; a collection of silver worth $130; a Chesterfield suite; and many other valuable awards.

Each ticket purchased in connection with the Queen Contest entitles the holder to give fifty votes to his favourite entry. Here is the list of nobility—take your choice: Miss Claire Roberts (Miss Independent), sponsored by the Independent fruit shippers; Miss Nellie Dore (Miss K.G.E.), sponsored by the Kelowna Growers' Exchange; Miss Ozilva Maranda (Miss Jeunesse), sponsored by the Young Catholic Society; Miss Gertrude McDonald (Miss Rowing Club), sponsored by the Kelowna Rowing Club; Miss Jean Hall (Miss Red Cross), sponsored by the Kelowna General Hospital.

Watch the result of the voting on the big barometer in front of the Royal Anne Hotel.

MOVEMENT OF PRODUCE IS SLOW

Reports Submitted To Shippers Council Show Business Quiet And Prices Low

(Contributed)

The first business at the meeting of the B.C. Shippers Council held at Vernon, in the Board of Trade room, on Thursday afternoon last, was to change the name of the Growers' and Shippers' Federation to that of the B.C. Shippers' Council, following which the new By-laws were discussed and were adopted with some amendments.

An application form for membership in the B.C. Shippers Council is being prepared and will be presented to the shippers in the Okanagan for signature. An annual subscription will be charged for membership, the amount of which has not yet been determined, but it will be as small as will barely take care of budget expenses. It is thought that a paid secretary will have to be secured for the next four or five months, and there will be some other expenses which will necessitate a small annual subscription.

Directors

The Directors appointed for the ensuing year are as follows: Messrs. A. W. Nisbet, Summerland; R. B. Staples and P. Hayes, Kelowna; E. J. Chambers, J. E. Montague and M. V. McGuire, Vernon; R. W. MacDonald, Armstrong; Mr. MacDonald is President and Mr. Hayes, Vice-President. The appointment of Secretary was left over to another meeting. Mr. D. Oliver, of Kelowna, was appointed as Auditor.

Bureau Of Information

Advice was received from Mr. W. W. Duncan, Director of Markets, that the Bureau of Information was ready to start functioning on Monday on receipt of invoices from shippers covering Saturday's shipments, and shippers present agreed to turn in Saturday's invoices to the Bureau, so that from then on daily bulletins will be forthcoming.

Price Committee

The question was then taken up of establishing a Price Committee that would be large enough to be representative and still not too large to be efficient, to handle price changes, and it was finally deemed, after much discussion, that three men might be sufficient to handle the price changing between the regular meetings.

Alternate Meetings At Vernon And Kelowna

It was decided to hold the regular meetings alternately at Vernon and Kelowna each Thursday, at twelve o'clock, combined with a luncheon, the proceedings to last for probably one hour and a half, and every meeting of the Council to be a general meeting. If there should not be enough members to constitute a quorum, then any such meeting can be resolved into a meeting of Directors and carried on as usual.

Cucumber Market Unsatisfactory

Considerable discussion took place on the unsatisfactory condition of the cucumber market, but it seemed impossible to decide definitely the cause at fault for the very low prices. A committee was appointed to investigate the situation and report to the next meeting.

Tomatoes

The open price on tomatoes was discussed at some length, it being felt that a price f.o.b. here was much more satisfactory. This was the opinion of a good many at the meeting, while, on the other hand, some of the members present felt that an open market while outside competition was to be met was the only way to handle the situation for the present. As soon as the deal is on a firm basis, a price f.o.b. here is to be placed on all shipments.

Early Apples

After much debate, in view of the slow movement, even at the present low prices, it was decided that the proper values for the coming week would be 75c on Household and $1.00 on wrapped apples. This means all early apples, including Duchess.

As to Wealthies, it was the opinion of the meeting that they should not be touched for another fifteen days or until they shall have reached the point of maturity where they show some colour and are a fairly satisfactory apple. It was agreed that the meeting should confer with the Inspection Department and regulate the rules in regard to grading, so that all shipments of Wealthies would be standard.

Plums

Plums other than Peach plums are moving out on the basis of 90c for 1s, 70c for 2s and 60c for 3s in suitcases.

The shippers' fall report business quiet and movement slow.

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

1st Kelowna Troop
Troop First Self Last

Edited by S.M.

August 4th, 1931.
Orders for the week ending August 7th, 1931:

Orderly patrol for the week, Otters;
next for duty, Beavers.

Rallies: There will be several war canoe practices during the next few days, which every member of the crew should make a special effort to attend.

Our 1931 camp has come and gone, and our old site at Cedar Creek has proved more popular than ever. It was really encouraging to see the fine camp the Cubs had this year, because we can now look forward to the time when they are going to be Scouts, knowing that they will be "good matterial." We extend our heartiest congratulations to Mr. Eric Lysons on the manner in which this camp was conducted.

We hope to see a good percentage of the Troop competing in the coming Regatta, because swimming and boating are two of the main features in the training of a Scout. The Troop itself will compete, as last year, for the Junior War Canoes, and it is up to this year's crew to see that they perform as well as those of previous years.

We again remind Scouts that diving for nickels at the passenger wharves when boats are in, or at any other time, is forbidden. As yet this rule seems to have been well lived up to, although it is very difficult to keep tab on this practice, and we feel certain that every Scout will do his best not to mar
this year's record.

Lastly, how about one or two more Swimmer's or Rescuer's Badges before the season closes?

SEA CADETS UNDER FULL CANVAS

(By Onlooker)

On Saturday, August 1st, the Kelowna Sea Cadet Corps, "Grenville," returned from a happy ten days spent under canvas at Cedar Creek. This outing was made possible by the generosity of numerous kind friends in many ways, and we wish to take this opportunity on behalf of the cadets of thanking each one for doing "his bit"
towards the boys' enjoyment.

An advance party left at 3 a.m. on Monday, July 26th, in the Sea Cadet boat to take over charge of the tents, etc., kindly lent by the Scouts and Guides; the remainder of the Corps arriving on Wednesday afternoon in charge of Mr. Cunneen. The first job was to rig more tents and put the camp ship-shape.

The following morning routine started in grim earnest, "Grenville," returned from a happy ten days spent under canvas at Cedar Creek. This outing was made possible by the generosity of numerous kind friends in many ways, and we wish to take this opportunity on behalf of the cadets of thanking each one for doing "his bit"
towards the boys' enjoyment.

Each day a "duty part," consisting of a Leading Cadet and four ratings, prepared delicious meals in the galley.
Working in rotation, every boy took a spell at this most important duty, and all felt their responsibilities keenly, being very glad when the time came to turn over their duties to their successors. The galley was the scene of many a heart-rending incident.

Who will forget the gale-force wind which will rivalled the Bay of Biscay in its effects? Or the mouse that drowned in the milk overnight? Perhaps that was what caused the C.O. to knock the stove pipe into the mulligan, and so plunge the whole galley into mourning.

After dinner the canteen was opened for a spell, followed by a much needed quiet hour. Energy being thus restored, games, bathing and boating parties kept every one fully occupied until pipe down.

Each night one tent crew was told off as guard, the crew taking tricks at sentry duty until midnight and remaining fully dressed all night ready for any emergency.

Sunday was visitors' day. Sea-Cadet Surgeon Campbell and Mr. MacLaren arrived with a two-gallon tub of "medicine," which, curiously enough, was eagerly taken by each cadet, who, like Oliver Twist, even asked for more!

There must have been rumours of serious ill health in the camp for during the course of the day Miss Turnbull and Mr. and Mrs. Hartwick also sent out similar consignments of "medicine" (the last doses of which were scraped out with spoons, and taken with considerable relish after brekker next morning).

The Rev. C. E. Davis was welcomed in the afternoon, and held a short service, saying a few very appropriate words to the boys. Tea was then served to the many welcome visitors. The boys looked very cool and seamanlike, the shirts of which were made by the indefatigable Cadet W. A. after the pattern of the genuine Navy "flannel."

The camp was not without excitement, for on Monday evening during the first watch the rapid clanging of the ship's bell sounded the fire alarm.
Immediately the whole corps were at fire stations, even the small boys who had "turned in" turning out again in pyjamas and bare feet, quite ready to tackle the bush fire which had broken out not far from the camp. This would have soon become a serious menace if the boys had not handled it so quickly and efficiently. Captain Maude-Roxby, the Fire Warden, was informed and soon arrived, but confidently left the fire in charge of the older boys, who worked in watches through-

"THE MUG IN THE PLUG"

When the ocean liner Belgeland, complete with theatre and actors, sailed on the first showboat cruise to Nova Scotia, it carried Frances White, musical comedy and vaudeville star; George Ritchie, Mayor of Halifax, and Claire Windsor, blonde beauty of the screen. Before leaving New York, Mayor Ritchie had stopped a ball game by appearing at the park in his silk hat. A sports writer, pointing out the Haligonian, handed an usher a note which the latter, instead of reading, delivered direct to His Worship. The Mayor, on opening the missive, saw this query: "Who's the mug in the plug?" Hizzoner smilingly scribbled "Mayor Ritchie of Halifax" on the paper and returned it to the inquiring reporter.

HOW TO KEEP HONEY

To determine the best conditions of temperature and humidity for the storage of honey, the Bee Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms put away the honey in half-pound jars under temperatures varying from 40 to 70 degrees. These samples had been taken from supplies gathered at eight-teen Branch Farms, representative of the various producing areas over the Dominion. Daily records were kept of temperatures and humidities in the various storages, and each month the honey was examined and any physical changes observed noted. The honey was kept without being disturbed for a twelve month period. Temperatures from 40 to 50 degrees proved to be more favourable than higher temperatures, higher temperatures tending to increase darkness, flocculence, and a coarser granulation in the honey.
Spoilage occurred only at the highest temperature of 70 degrees, when samples were found to be fermented.

Sun-scaled tomatoes continue to be the big worry with the Oliver grower and also the packing house at that point. This year the loss through sunscald has been particularly heavy. The culling in the packing house from the first pick, after the sun blisters were in evidence, was quite heavy, running as high as two-thirds.

Marital Bliss

"Is Bernice happily married?"
"Yes, indeed. Her husband's away most of the time."

ing next day, Captain Roxby told the boys how greatly he appreciated their prompt efforts. A cheque paid by the Forestry Department was unanimously voted into the Corps funds.
On Thursday evening, instructors Charman and Stone and some visitors were present at the camp bon-fire; needless to say, every one had a jolly time.

On Friday night—well! discipline always relaxes on the last night of camp; and blood-curdling rumours of rank mutiny hint at officers walking the plank and swimming ashore, in shark infested waters—and entering into the spirit of it, too! In the cold grey dawn a curious spectacle was seen of flattened tents, whilst blankets, pyjamas and bathing suits gracefully draped the topmost boughs of neighbouring trees. And so, hilariously, this year's camp came to an end, with many pleasant memories to offset the regrets of striking camp, and with the knowledge that the Corps has gained a true sportsman as its friend and new instructor.

1ST RUTLAND TROOP

"Do A Good Turn Daily"

Orders for the week ending August

8th:
The Troop will parade at the School in full uniform on Friday, at 7.45 p.m.
The District Commissioner, Mr. E. C.
Weddell, will be present.

Duty Patrol: Seals.

About 11 Scouts attended the meeting at the School field on Friday last, the time being about evenly divided between softball and first aid and signalling classes.

A.S.M. Ken Bond and Scout W.
Hardie left on Thursday by bicycle for Oroville, to see the air pageant to be held there Saturday last.

Our 1931 Camp

Owing to lack of time, it was impossible to give a detailed report of our camp in last week's notes, so it had to be held over until this week.

The attendance was better than the average, three patrols being organized, each with its own camp area, cooking fire and table, and the competition was keen at all times. A special patrol competition was run for camp, with points awarded for tests passed, camp inspection, etc. The final points were as follows:

Patrol	Points
Seals	534
Beavers	488
Kangaroos	412

The average camp strength was 21, including three leaders and 18 Scouts.
A very gratifying fact was that all the Patrol Leaders were in camp, also most of the bigger Scouts. Very good work was accomplished in swimming. No less than ten boys passed the first class swimming test, eight of whom could only do a few strokes when going to camp. Three "Swimmers" proficiency badges were also won. No camp cook badges were awarded this year, the "bannock" and in some cases the rice pudding not being cooked satisfactorily. Following is a list of the tests passed while in camp:

Tenderfoot—Flag: G. Smith, D.
Davidson. Knots: G. Smith, D. Davidson, E. Cross, D. Reid. Law: D.
Davidson. Signs and Salute: D. Davidson. Completed Tenderfoot while in Camp: G. Smith, D. Davidson, E.

Announcement of the purchase of a site for a new $70,000 hotel and also of land for a $30,000 apartment block in Peniticon, was made last week by Mr.
G. de la Mothe, representing the Sur-mont Investments Development Co. Mr. de la Mothe states that the hotel will be unique in the interior for its size.
It will be placed on a tract of six lots on Main Street south of Nanaimo Street. The apartment house is to be on Lakeshore Drive. The clearing of the Main Street property has already been started and it is thought that the building will commence in about three weeks time.

KELOWNA'S OIL-GAS WELL

(Editorial in The Penticton Herald)

Drilling for oil or gas is a mystery to most of us. We look at a derrick and study out which end is which. We listen to a lot of technical conversations about casings and drills and blow-offs and capping and formations and so forth, and we are no wiser.

But we do know from the romance of the industry what it means to "strike oil."

The well at Kelowna is steadily being driven down. Despite difficulties, the promoters have kept grimly on in their endeavours, and today they feel confident of getting some real results within the next 500 feet. They have gone down about 1,800 feet already.

They say they would prefer to have gas instead of oil. Oil is cheap today and anyway there is a story that, if they get gas in good quantities, it will be piped to the Coast.

The concern seems to have made an honest effort to give its investors a run for their money. We hope they "strike oil."

Nina Mobley, a 14-year-old Salmon Arm girl, has the stuff of which heroines are made. On July 25th, she rescued a 12-year-old Calgary boy from drowning in the lake at Sunnyside Beach at the risk of her own life. Too tired to swim with the added weight of the boy, both were forced to the bottom. Nothing daunted, Nina, with the boy on her back, started to walk ashore on the lake bed, coming up at intervals for air, but when she reached the bottom, unable to rise. Fortunately, the shouts of children brought her sister, Mrs. J. H. Farrell, to the scene, and she was taken from the water before it was too late. Nina is about the same size as the boy she rescued, which makes her valiant effort the more commendable.

Shopper's Suspicion

Old lady (on the farm): "What's that fuss on those sheep?"

Farmer: "Wool."

Old lady: "I'll bet it's half cotton."

"Oh, dear, Johnny, have you been fighting again?"

"No, miss; we moved yesterday and I moved the cat."

"The husband ought to have a voice in the furnishing of the home," says a woman writer.

Oh, but he does—the invoice.

Employer: "You say there are two reasons why you want a raise in wages. Tell me briefly what they are."

Employee: "Twins."

OKANAGAN CENTRE

The tennis match between Okanagan Mission and the Centre, played on the home courts last Tuesday (28th ult.), proved to be a very interesting and well fought series of games, the final score being 7-5 in favour of the Centre Club.

The following players participated: Mission—Messdames Ford, Mallam and Harding; Messrs. Ford, Sr., Ford, Jr., and Middlemass. Okanagan Centre—Messdames Gibson and Macfarlane, Miss Gled, Messrs. Coe, Gibson and Pitton.

A return match at the Mission is slated for the 13th of this month.

The competition in the club for the Rainbow Challenge Cup is well under way and it is expected to have the finals played next Saturday afternoon.

Mr. E. D. Hare was a Coast visitor last week, returning on Friday.

The families of Messrs. A. McMurray and H. B. Latta, of Rutland, have been occupying the Company's cottage next the tennis courts for a week's outing on the lake shore.

The high wind on Monday brought down probably fifty per cent of the early pears in orchards on the lower benches, those higher up escaping with little loss.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hare entertained the latter's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Riter, of Winnipeg, on Monday and Tuesday.

WINE PRODUCTION AIDS LOGANBERRY GROWERS

Wine-Making Provides Outlet For Considerable Tonnage Of Fruit

Utilization of surplus fruit at satisfactory prices is a subject of deep interest to the growers of Okanagan Valley, who have reason to hope for betterment of conditions in this respect, following the investigations of the By-Products Committee of the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association and the experiments conducted by the Dominion Government, which have shown the feasibility of manufacturing fruit wines, cider and apple brandy. Their confederates engaged in the loganberry branch of the industry, on Vancouver Island, have been fortunate in having the difficulties of a surplus largely solved by the co-operation of the Victoria Wineries, Limited. This organization was formed in 1927 for the purpose of relieving a situation which was then serious, and which showed every indication of becoming more pressing as production increased. At a meeting of the Saanich Board of Trade, a group of members formed an independent company to manufacture loganberry wine and entered into a five-year agreement with the growers, contracting to pay eight cents a pound for loganberries.

Securing the services of Mr. S. B. Slinger, who has had fifteen years' experience in wine making, and with adequate finances, the Victoria Wineries proceeded to erect buildings and plant to take care of their contracted quota of loganberries. In 1928 the Company manufactured 30,000 gallons of wine and this was placed on the market in 1930-31, proving to be of excellent quality and meeting with ready sale in Government Liquor Stores throughout the Province. In 1929 a larger quantity of fruit was handled and 60,000 gallons of wine produced. In addition, 14,000 gallons of wine from Okanagan grapes was produced. The year 1930 saw the necessity of further plant extension, and 90,000 gallons of wine were placed in the cellars for maturation. This year, with the business now firmly established, 100,000 gallons of wine will be made.

The several brands of loganberry wine manufactured by the Victoria Wineries are now well-known throughout the Province. "Slinger's" is the original and most popular brand. It is sold in big 40 oz. bottles at 75c. Recently, "Chateau Patricia," a vintage wine, has been added, selling in 26 oz. bottles at 60c. In addition, the Company is also marketing a very fine B.C. Logan Port (Old Vintage) of notable tonic properties, at $1.00 a bottle.

The initiative and careful planning of the Victoria Wineries has been of material benefit to the loganberry growers of Vancouver Island, and has assured an outlet for a considerable tonnage of the fruit at satisfactory prices. It should be possible to achieve an equal measure of success with the surplus apple crop of the Okanagan, if the problem is tackled in the same able, competent way.

A Chicago judge has ruled that a saxophone is a musical instrument. So now you know what's wrong with Chicago.

CONSPICUOUS FIGURES IN THE BEAUHARNOIS INQUIRY

Here are shown: (1) Hon. W. A. Gordon, Nipissing, Ont., chairman of the Parliamentary Committee; (2) Peter White, K.C., counsel of the inquiry commission, who undertook his duties immediately following his report on the alleged movie combine in the Dominion; (3) Robert O. Swezey, president of the corporation, whose evidence revealed that immense profits were made privately; (4) Senator W. L. McDougall, former chairman of the Montreal Harbour Commission, who, as chairman of the board of the corporation, was subjected to a merciless examination during the inquiry; (5) sketch of the Beauharnois development taken from the corporation's own prospectus. It shows the new canal in relation to the old one. From the canal, which is fifteen miles long, it is hoped to produce the first 500,000 horsepower by the autumn of 1932. Pictured inset is the emblem of the corporation, taken from the coat-of-arms of the ancient Beauharnois family, to which was added the high tension insulator to signify power.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

(From the files of "The Kelowna Courier")

Thursday, August 3, 1911

"It rained for only a few minutes on Tuesday afternoon, but the down-pour was torrential while it lasted, and pedestrians caught in it were glad to secure cover."

"There was a miniature wreck in the C.P.R. yard on Sunday, jocularly described by eye-witnesses as the first railway collision in Kelowna. Definite particulars are not obtainable, but it seems that four cars went off the track owing to their colliding while being switched. The track received some injury but the cars escaped without damage, and things were speedily put to rights."

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Anglican Church of St. Michael and All Angels was carried out on Sunday, July 30th, in the presence of a large congregation, which included a number of adherents of the other churches in town. The report of the historic event states in part:

"The stone selected for the function was one in the north-east corner of the chancel of the church, and it was suspended above its destined position by means of a temporary crane. A bed of mortar was prepared for it by Mr. McKenzie Band, foreman mason, and the stone was then lowered to place, tapped with a trowel by Mr. F. A. Taylor, and declared by him to be 'well and truly laid in the name of God the Father, Son and Holy Ghost.' The Rector, Rev. Thos. Greene, then placed within a cavity in the stone certain interesting parish records, including a list of officers of the church, a list of subscribers to the Building Fund and a history of the parish, sealed in a glass bottle. The recess was subsequently filled up level with mortar."

"Rev. H. A. Solly, Rector of Summerland, preached an eloquent sermon from I. Chronicles, chap. 22, in which he urged that it was the duty of the people of today to provide fitting temples to the glory of God as in the days of the ancient Hebrews, who lavished gold and silver in profusion upon the adornment of the Temple."

Kelowna was visited at this time by Professor Etcheverry, of the Department of Irrigation, University of California, who was employed by the Provincial Government to report upon existing systems of irrigation in the province and to advise as to the best system to adopt in cases where new ones were necessary. He examined the K.L.O. and S.K.L. systems, the Belgo-Canadian project, the Central Okanagan Lands system in the Rutland and Ellison districts and a large portion of the Okanagan Mission district. Summing up his observations made in the locality of Kelowna, "Prof. Etcheverry considers the local irrigation systems are the most up-to-date and most scientifically arranged of any he has seen so far—a high tribute to the engineering skill and the nature of construction employed by the local land and irrigation companies."

The twenty-one Italians, Armenians and other foreigners who were arrested about a month before on charges of evading the immigration regulations were each fined $25.00, including costs, by Police Magistrate Boyce.

A Kelowna eleven piled up 143 for six wickets in a cricket match played with Okanagan Mission on the ground of the Kelowna Sports Association. The Mission total was 104, all out. The Missionites, in turn, wreaked havoc with a rather weak eleven from Armstrong, whose wickets they captured for the paltry total of 34, while they rolled up 152 themselves for three wickets, A. H. Crichton making 67, not out, H. T. Gore-Brown, 26, and R. A. Bartholomew, 40.

The first show exclusively devoted to flowers ever held in Kelowna took place in the Aquatic Pavilion on August 1st, under the auspices of the Aquatic Association. Unfortunately, the weather was rather threatening and a very heavy shower about 3 p.m.—which turned out to be the only one, however—had a prejudicial effect upon the attendance. In the evening the attendance was better but disappointing, considering the nature of the exhibition and the fact that an attractive musical programme was provided. While scantier in number than had been anticipated, some lovely flowers were shown, particularly petunias and sweet peas, but some of the most familiar kinds, such as pansies, were entirely absent. The result of the show was a financial loss to the Aquatic Association, which was certainly scant encouragement to repeat the venture.

FOREST FIRES

The menace of forest fires, not usually encountered in such old settled districts as that of Kelowna, has been demonstrated very vividly in the immediate vicinity this week by the destruction of the ranch residences of General Harman and Mr. Wilson, of Glenmore. In a country subject to prolonged periods of very dry, hot weather, outbreaks of fire in the woods will always be a source of danger, and the greatest care possible should be exercised to prevent them. The match and the cigarette, combined with human carelessness, have been responsible for many disastrous outbreaks, frequently attended with loss of life, and it seems that, despite all the unceasing efforts of government departments and such splendid bodies as the Canadian Forestry Association, the public in general cannot be taught to use the simple precautions that would obviate many fires.

A burning cigarette end is carelessly tossed out of a motor car window, regardless of where it may fall—often in a convenient tuft of dry grass, a match is thrown away burning fiercely, the red-hot embers of a pipe are knocked out amidst pine needles, a camp fire that a bucket of water would douse is left to blaze up when fanned by the wind, and so on—all petty causes of costly destruction that but a moment's care and forethought would prevent.

Besides the destruction of valuable timber and the danger to property and human life that is entailed by forest fires, there is the discomfort brought about by the pall of smoke which, nearly every year, hangs over much of the province, shutting out the sun and affecting the proper ripening and maturing of produce. The pocket of the taxpayer, too, is directly affected, for a permanent force of fire wardens must be maintained and a large outlay incurred annually for wages of fire-fighting gangs and protective equipment and material.

It has been alleged that in previous years as well as those strenuous times of lack of employment many forest fires have been set deliberately by men out of work in order to secure wages for fire-fighting, but there does not seem to be any rush this year to secure such employment. If there is any measure of truth in the accusation, no punishment would be too severe for such men, or, rather, such fiends in human form, who, for the sake of a few miserable dollars, would imperil the lives and property of their fellows.

If appeals to reason and pride of citizenship have no effect, then the penalties for wilful carelessness contributory to the start of forest fires should be stiffened to a degree that would rouse the careless man to a realization of what would await him, should his lack of average precaution be brought home to him. A stiff fine, with the alternative of several months in prison, would bring home the need of regarding matches and cigarettes in the woods as so much dynamite, to be handled with the utmost care.

The Beaches Call

All roads lead to the bathing beaches these scorching days, but they do not always take a chap right into the drink. At the Vancouver beaches, for instance, five are found lolling in the sand to one in the water. No doubt sun baths are as beneficial as a swim, if not as instantaneously invigorating, but the main idea back of lying in the sand and letting the world go by is to acquire a beautiful nut-brown sun tan. The process is sometimes painful to an annoying degree. The skin turns a brilliant red and the back peels; clothing becomes an irritant and the victim develops an itch which is scratched with further fatal results. And then a well-meaning friend comes along and brings his hand down heavily upon a protesting back. Why is it that some one insists upon slapping your back in the early stages of sunburn? Ask me another.

The best way to avoid sunburn is to confine aquatic antics to the nocturnal beach party, popular in Kelowna right now. A lot of fellows and girls around town are wearing a beautiful moon-tan. The moon-struck countenance, a rarity acquired only at summer night beach gatherings, is particularly becoming to the girls. For the most part, it leaves the men looking foolish.

Get The Habit

A lot of money—I don't know exactly how much—is spent annually on forest fire protection, and much more in the timber resources of British Columbia goes up in smoke every year.

A cigarette carelessly dropped, a camp fire neglected, matches handled irresponsibly, are among the causes of forest fires.

You or I would not ignite a fire with thousand dollar bills out of our own pockets. It seems to me we should be as careful with our country's resources, which is her credit, as with our own cash.

The better habit of caution and consideration for public property, with a little effort on our part, will defeat the habit of carelessness.

Butterfield's "Neckathon"

Unable or disinclined to prescribe a poison for the quick extinction of the walkathons, the Province columnist proposes the inauguration of a "neckathon" to be held in a public place, where young couples may neck as hard and as long as they are able to stand up under the ordeal.

This is a great idea. So many couples have been in training for so long that no preliminary preparation would be necessary before entering. Those not given to public demonstrations would be afforded the opportunity to overcome their bashfulness and would doubtless qualify to give vent to their amorous inclinations on park benches, in the front row of theatres, on the boulevards and in the cafes. The moral uplift of the neckathon would encourage them to go in a huddle anywhere, any time, any place, instead of following the time-worn custom of seeking secluded nooks for matrimonial promotion.

However, in its last stages, the walkie at the Vancouver Theatre was little less than a neckathon. Sleep-starved women were seen draped from the necks of the more robust entries. These girls might last longer in a real neckathon, though; they could go to sleep and let their partners do all the work and it would look natural enough.

The Dust Menace

Successful men do not let grass grow under their feet. Progressive cities do not let dust blow through their streets. The request of Kelowna business men to have oiled a section of the retail trading area disfigured by dust is a reasonable one. Oil may gum up the underworks of the automobile, but there is no denying the fact that it gives the city a cleaner and cooler appearance during the hot weather.

And tourists select the cleaner towns for stopping-off places.

Why? O, Why?

I am unable to figure out why city mosquitoes take such a fancy to me. When I come to rest in the vicinity of one of those devilish little swordsmen, no matter how many other people are around it makes a bee-line for my bony carcass, passing up splendid eating material in the line of flight.

On second thought, I am convinced that all mosquitoes have "it in" for me for supporting Mr. Craig in his campaign.

BATHING IN UNGUARDED AREAS IS DANGEROUS

Three Fatalities Narrowly Averted During The Past Few Weeks

It cannot be reiterated too often that people who cannot swim or can only manage a few strokes take their lives in their hands when they bathe at spots where the beach shelves off abruptly into deep water, and where they get beyond their depth. The area of the Aquatic Association leasehold fronts on such a beach, but the deep water is indicated by safety booms and buoys and a vigilant and experienced life guard is constantly on duty to save foolhardy folk who will venture out too far.

On both sides of the Aquatic Association territory the beach shelves suddenly into deep water, and as it is of pure sand of fine texture, the edge of the break-off gives no foothold. Feeling it give way beneath their feet, excitable bathers are liable to shriek, throw up their hands and sink, while, if they kept cool, two or three strokes towards shore would land them in safety.

A few days ago, Mary Blakeborough, young daughter of Mr. H. A. Blakeborough, City Engineer, swam to the rescue of a woman who had waded beyond her depth on the frontage between the Aquatic and the old ferry wharf and had stumbled. Mary grasped the woman's hand and helped her to reach shore. Without this prompt assistance, a tragedy might have been recorded.

It is also reported that a girl who recently found herself in similar difficulty between the Aquatic and the former tourist camp was rescued by Mrs. C. Percival, of East Kelowna. Owing to the abrupt dip downwards of the beach at this point, the bather suddenly found herself in deep water.

While the Seventh-Day Adventists were in convention here, a party went down to the lake to bathe about six o'clock one morning. According to reports, two members of the party were trapped by the break-off of the sandy beach and were rescued by a woman whose name was not revealed.

Besides these recent cases, there have been countless instances of persons of all ages having been snatched from death by the fortunate circumstances of people being near by who could swim, but such good fortune cannot always prevail and, if inexperienced bathers will persist in risking disaster along dangerous and unguarded beaches, a tragedy is bound to eventuate.

and worrying time in endeavouring to combat the widespread outbreaks with the appliances and men available, many of the so-called "unemployed" showing no eagerness to undertake genuine work in fighting fire so long as any dole is to be obtained. Continuance of the high winds of Sunday and Monday would have spelled very serious disaster, but a drenching rain last night came as providential aid and should help materially in getting all the outbreaks under control. Until the rain came, the sky was obscured with a heavy pall of smoke which hid the Mission Range and the west side of Okanagan Lake from view, but this morning the smoke has cleared away largely, while there is hope of further rain.

day received their forty-cent allotments at the government office last week. Observers tell me that some of these men are procuring such delicacies as canned lobster, oranges, bananas, etc. A few, I am further informed, drive their own cars, and how many own liquor permits is unknown.

Recipe For Writing

I know how to turn out a good column in the heat but I'm timid about trying it. The first thing to do is to hie away to the hills, locate a nice soft spot under a shady tree and study the cloudless sky for about ten minutes. The next thing is to have a bucket of ice within reach and something in liquid form—cooling on the ice. The next is to take a long drink, another and possibly another. Then fall into a restful slumber.

The column? Well, that can always be written the next day.

SINGLE LANE PAVEMENTS FOR COUNTRY ROADS

Illinois Solves Problem Of Permanent Highways At Reasonable Cost

The ever present problem of how to get serviceable local roads with limited funds has been solved in Illinois, according to a recent survey of the roads of three counties.

For a number of years Vermilion, Champaign and Iroquois counties have been building what are known as single lane pavements, consisting of nine and ten-foot wide strips of concrete with wide earth, gravel or crushed stone shoulders. This type of pavement, which costs a little more than half that of full width hard surfacing, has enabled these counties to extend year-round pavements to distant corners, so that all farmers are within easy striking distance of permanent roads that carry them to market quickly.

Aside from the low cost of these single lane pavements, the wisdom of building them is further demonstrated by their low maintenance costs. A study of the upkeep of these pavements in the three counties reveals that the cost on the travelled roadways, built from six to fourteen years ago, averages from about $75 to $135 per mile per year.

By the end of 1930 these three adjacent counties had paved a total of 460 miles of single lane concrete. Each county's mileage is the result of careful planning along with bond issue financing which enabled them to pay immediately the essential roads. Further, their paving programmes are continuing. This year Champaign county will build nearly 18 miles of nine-foot concrete, while Vermilion and Iroquois counties have let contracts for about five miles of ten-foot concrete.

Whereas many rural communities are rebuilding their most used roads every year or few years, these Illinois counties are freed of that trouble and expense. Vermilion was one of the pioneer Illinois counties in single lane pavement building, with her first laid sixteen years ago. These early pavements give evidence of many more years of service.

The earliest single lane concrete pavement was built in Hunt County, Texas, in 1912. That pavement is still in excellent condition, even though it is carrying much more traffic than was anticipated. The pavement is near the largest oil field in the world, and every kind of vehicle, from burro-drawn carts to well drillers' trucks weighing four, ten tons, is numbered among the three or four thousand transports that use it daily.

MARRIAGES

Frederickson—Corry

A quiet wedding in Victoria on Tuesday, July 28th, attended only by relatives and a few intimate friends, united Mr. Clarence John Frederickson, Principal of the Kelowna Public and Junior High Schools, son of the late Mr. J. M. Frederickson and Mrs. Frederickson, of Vancouver, in marriage to Kathleen, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Corry, of the Highland district, near Victoria, also a member of the Kelowna teaching staff for several terms. Rev. Father Evans officiated. The bride looked charming in rose-flowered chiffon, with picture hat to match. She was attended by her sister, Miss Muriel Corry, as bridesmaid, and by her niece, Winsome Smith, as flower girl. The groom was supported by Mr. James W. Logie, of the Kelowna High School staff.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. L. Smith, Hollywood Crescent, during the course of which Mrs. W. E. H. Godson, accompanied at the piano by Miss Nora Drury, sang "Beloved, It Is Morn" and "O Promise Me."

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Sidney Grist and Mr. and Mrs. W. McGuigan, of Vancouver, and Miss Marie Chapin, of Kelowna.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Frederickson left on the C.N.R. boat for Vancouver, where they embarked on the launch Kabalee for a two weeks' cruise of Coast waters. On their return they will take up residence in Kelowna.

Towell—McCurdy

The numerous friends in Kelowna of Mr. Seymour Towell, former Principal of the Kelowna High School and now Supervisor of the Nanaimo Public Schools, will be interested in the following account of his marriage, clipped from the Victoria Colonist:

Very quietly, only immediate relatives being present, the marriage took place at Christ Church Cathedral at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, August 2nd, of Leonora, second daughter of Mrs. McCurdy and the late Mr. W. McCurdy, of "Malahat Park," Vancouver Island, and Mr. Seymour Towell, of Nanaimo, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Towell, of Vancouver.

The ceremony was charmingly dignified, being performed by the Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia, in the little chapel in the north transept, the altar of which was decorated with gold-gladioli. Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. W. Melville McCurdy, the bride looked beautiful in her going-away frock of white celinee flowered in pastel shades; made on slim-fitted lines with flared skirt, and the neckline finished with a graceful scarf fichu of the material, fastened on the left side. With this was worn a picture hat of jade mohair, and an amethyst and pearl pendant was clasped around the throat, while the shower-bouquet composed of gladioli, sweet peas, stocks and roses, re-emphasized the pastel shades of the frock.

The bride was unattended. Her mother was handsome in a frock of tangerine lace and a hat of ivory French felt, with corsage bouquet of sweet peas, and the bridegroom's mother wore a smart ensemble of figured brown silk with hat of brown, Bangkok straw and a fox fur.

Immediately after the ceremony and signing of the register at the Cathedral, Mrs. A. W. McCurdy entertained at a small tea in the conservatory at the Empress Hotel, at which only the principals and members of the immediate family were present, the table being artistically arranged with gold and flame-coloured poppies. When the bride and bridegroom left later in the afternoon for Nanaimo, en route for Vancouver, Banff, and Lake Louise, where the honeymoon is to be spent, the bride wore over her going-away dress a wrap of kitten's cloth in soft green and white shades with collar of light wolf.

Mr. and Mrs. Towell expect to return in about a fortnight's time to Nanaimo, where they will make their home.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Oliver was a Canadian National passenger to Vancouver yesterday.

Mr. J. Shand was a Canadian National passenger to Regina, Sask., yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hall, of Penticton, are guests of the Royal Anne Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Duggan returned on Saturday from a trip to the Old Country.

Mr. William Purves and family left on Saturday by Canadian National for Scotland.

Dr. G. E. Seon and Mrs. Seon have returned from a month's holiday spent at the Coast.

Mr. George Rowcliffe left yesterday by Canadian National on a business trip to Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. McCarter and family, of Vancouver, are guests of the Royal Anne Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberts and daughter returned last week from a trip to Vancouver Island.

Mr. Peter Murdoch, of Vancouver, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Murdoch, Okanagan Mission.

Capt. J. M. Walter, of the Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Association, Wenatchee, is registered at the Royal Anne Hotel.

Judge J. D. Swanson, of Kamloops, was in the city on Monday and Tuesday, when he held sessions of County Court.

The Misses Caldwell, of Scotland, who have been touring the province, were guests of the Mayfair Hotel at the week-end.

Misses Agnes and Margaret Fry, accompanied by Miss Marie Michaelis, of England, are registered at the Mayfair Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Johnston and child, of Vancouver, are spending a vacation in the city, guests of the Royal Anne Hotel.

Mr. A. E. Cox left yesterday by Canadian National for Windsor, Ontario, where he will attend the Sons of England convention.

Capt. P. V. Tempest returned on Tuesday from Calgary, where he had been in attendance at a military school of instruction for three weeks.

Mr. Hugh Cochrane, of the "Pentown," who had been confined to the Kelowna General Hospital, is now convalescing at the Mayfair Hotel.

Harold Burr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burr, is giving swimming lessons in Woods Lake, at Petrie's. Quite a number of children are receiving instruction at the hands of Harold, who is an expert swimmer.

A strong wind swept huge clouds of dust through the city streets on Monday afternoon. It was so thick at intervals that entire blocks were enveloped in the haze. The breeze was also instrumental in fanning to greater fury the forest fires in the district.

Guests of the Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon in the Royal Anne Hotel, on Tuesday, included the following C.N.R. officials: Mr. B. T. Chappell, General Superintendent, and Mr. Paul Hockin, of Vancouver; Mr. J. W. Crane, of Kamloops, and Mr. E. H. Harkness, of Vernon.

Mr. T. L. Gillespie, formerly of East Kelowna, who had been a guest of the Willow Inn for the past fortnight while renewing acquaintances in the district, left yesterday via California for Australia, where he will reside. Mr. Gillespie was greatly impressed with the growth of Kelowna since his last visit.

The Courier is suffering from a surplus of cats. A few days ago, four pretty, grey kittens, about two months old, made their appearance all of a sudden in the little garden at the back of the premises, and there they remain. Either they were dumped there by some one who likewise suffered from a surplus of felines, or they were left there by an unfeeling mother and left to shift for themselves. They cannot be permitted to starve and perhaps a merciful death would be a kindness in the long run, but no member of the staff is ruthless enough to deprive them of life. Meantime they are being fed, but, as no cooking is carried on in the building, providing suitable food for them is rather a difficult matter. They are not alley cats, but are tame, gentle and healthy and would make desirable household or children's pets. Any kind-hearted persons who can provide good homes for the poor little things will be welcome to any or all of them, if they will bring a sack or other suitable receptacle.

Kelowna merchants are warned to examine closely all $20 bills tendered in payment for merchandise. It is reported that several Canadian Bank of Commerce bills raised from $5 to this denomination were passed in Penticton and Summerland recently. On the bills detected and now in the hands of the police, it was discovered that the figure five had been skillfully obliterated by experts and twenty substituted.

The Fire Brigade were summoned to extinguish a spectacular blaze on Tuesday, at 8:20 p.m., when a barn owned by Mr. J. N. Cameron, Park Avenue, was discovered in flames. The building, in which a small amount of hay was stored, was partially destroyed, but the prompt action of the firemen saved an adjacent barn, the property of Mr. George Anderson, from serious damage. Both buildings were covered by insurance. Damage to Mr. Cameron's barn is estimated at $500, while the other will not exceed a loss of $75. The origin of the blaze is attributed to a short circuit in electrical lines.

Prize lists have been issued for the Summer Flower Show of the Kelowna and District Horticultural Society, which will be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall on Saturday, August 15th, from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. Forty classes are provided for, and it is hoped that there will be the usual ready response with exhibits by those who love flowers. Not all can win prizes, of course, but the more exhibits there are shown the more attractive will be rendered, the whole show. Entries should be made with the Secretary not later than Friday, August 14th, at the Department of Agriculture Office, Board of Trade Building, Bernard Avenue, and all exhibits must be in place at the hall by noon of the following day.

demanded to know what the City Council had in mind with regard to finding work for the unemployed who lived here and paid taxes.

The chairman pointed out the difficulty of providing work for all, but help could be given to brethren in distress.

What The City Has Done

Alderman O. L. Jones, speaking unofficially, outlined the splendid assistance the city had already given in finding work for the unemployed, stating that Kelowna had provided more relief work than any three cities in the Interior and the cost had been tremendous. People were kicking because there were no monies available for oiling the streets, repairing sidewalks, etc., but current revenue was "spoken for up to the hilt." The Council was anxious and willing to do all possible to help, and he doubted if all citizens realized the gravity of the unemployment situation. Last year 460 names had been registered as destitute, a most distressing condition. Taking the average family as five, 460 represented half the heads of families of the city, and it meant that every man would have to look after another man.

Finding employment for these people was a matter for the federal government to take in hand. All organizations, declared Ald. Jones, should endeavour to get the public mind working towards nationalization of industries. The solution was to nationalize the huge industries. While the government had done its best, the personal touch was lacking and now it was only trying to check transients. The proud individual suffering in silence was causing the problem, concluded the speaker, but those gathered there that night were capable of organizing a plan to give local assistance. The logical action to take, he agreed, was to form a committee.

Mr. Seale remarked that Ald. Jones had relieved his mind.

Forty Cent Dole Termed "Damnable" That the government dole of forty cents a day was a "most damnable thing" was the opinion of Mr. A. Gibb, who declared that ninety-five per cent of the transients receiving it were single men, while local men, with homes to pay for and big families to support, were up against it. The government had done nothing to help the situation, said Mr. Gibb, and the City Council would want to "pass the buck." The Council, he said, always had ways and means of getting money while other organizations had not. The speaker criticized the method of distributing the relief work carried on in the city this year, stating that men who did not have a loaf of bread in the house could not get work. If a committee was organized, it should see that only those in need were assisted.

The chairman remarked that it was "all very well to pass the buck" to the city, but every single man should do all in his power to see that others were not going without the necessity of life.

Mr. A. J. Hughes, the next speaker, felt that something should be done for those close at hand, and there was opportunity for city organizations to do something. It was a splendid thing to analyze the thoughts of the community on the question. He referred to the recommendations of the Rotary Club which had been forwarded to the governments, and he was of the opinion that if other suggestions dealing with unemployment relief were sent in they would be helpful.

Criticism of Governments Depreciated

There was nothing to be gained in criticizing the governments, said Mr. F. W. Groves. No matter what the powers of these administrations, they could not give relief to every man, woman and child, so that phase of the situation should be forgotten. He suggested that, in the event of a committee being formed, the assistance should be secured of Mr. J. R. Beale, who had had much experience in the distribution of relief to wives and dependents of men overseas during the Great War. Mr. Beale was peculiarly fitted to determine the resources of people.

In Mr. Groves' opinion, some of the unemployed here could be sent to the woods to gather firewood and bring it to the city to be cut up at a central depot. This should be done before the snow began to fall. He stated that the Anglican church was setting aside the collection of one Sunday in every month for the benefit of members of the congregation who were destitute.

Community Chest Plan Commended

Complimenting Toc H upon calling the meeting that evening, Mr. H. A. Blakeborough, City Engineer, stated that he had had considerable experience as a member of relief committees and there was only one method that had proved a success—the community chest method in which all monies for relief went into a central fund. Too, there was no danger of giving offence, as some cases were handled indirectly through the churches. One central fund also eliminated the danger of overlapping.

Mr. Ballard remarked that Kelowna was no mean city, that her citizens had always "coughed up" and that they would again respond nobly. No individual present could pledge the support of the organization he represented, but there was no doubt that all would help. That a committee be formed was a good suggestion.

A Paid Relief Officer

Mr. H. Waldron was interested in what he had heard. The need of the plan or plans was cash, he felt, and a charity ball might be staged to raise money. He would help any committee formed, but he thought that some one should be hired to give time to investigation work, preferably a woman.

Surplus Produce Should Be Utilized

Mr. de Montreuil had concrete suggestions to offer. Enough produce was going to waste here, he said, to feed one hundred families, potatoes and thousands of boxes of cut apples among them. Skim milk, for instance, which a physician had told him was a good builder, was sold in some cases as low as one hundred pounds for twenty cents or a half cent a quart. A half gallon of this milk a day would help many families. Meat could also be distributed at a very low figure if animals were butchered by the committee and only the cost price charged for it. Or the cost could be taken out of the fund. Eggs were now selling at twenty cents a dozen. Why not put on an egg drive and have some one go out and collect them? They could be preserved for next winter.

Concluding, the speaker said that the farmers had lots of stuff going to waste. This could be obtained from them and utilized, but to get cash would be a problem.

Mr. Swainson, speaking briefly, stated that the relief committee should have a relief officer. He said also that men should be provided with work—that was what they wanted.

Mr. Leslie Harrison remarked that to give a man work might mean the expenditure of three dollars where otherwise it might be possible to give him one dollar. Some were reluctant to give, others were too kind. He felt that the distribution should be made on a basis of the city taxes paid, which was the opinion of Mr. A. Gibb.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE TRUTH, THE WHOLE TRUTH AND NOTHING BUT—

Kelowna, B.C., August 3, 1931
The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,
I have read with interest the letter over the signature of Mr. J. V. L. Lyell in your last issue, on the question of Commercial Fishing in Okanagan Lake.

The conclusion reached by Mr. Lyell will, I think, meet with general approval, but I must register a qualified protest against the last paragraph of the letter, which states that Joe, the purveyor of the mysterious bait, is the only truthful man in the valley known to the writer.

To one who, like the undersigned, has been for years laboriously trying to build up a reputation for veracity (so useful in the business of second-hand dealers, insurance agents, sporting goods stores and the like) it is saddening and disappointing to think that all the labour has been in vain. While cheerfully admitting that all men—and possibly a few women—are liars, one likes to think that there may be a few exceptions, even in the Okanagan Valley.

Of course everyone will agree that the "Joe" referred to in Mr. Lyell's letter is a striking example of the exception to the rule, but I think I could name at least two other individuals in the valley known to Mr. Lyell, excluding the present writer, who under certain qualifications, should also be included as exceptions.

Yours truly,

P. P. BOWMAN.

A CORRECTION

Kelowna, Aug. 4, 1931.
The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Sir,
I am sure you will willingly correct a small error which appeared in your issue of July 30th. The paragraph dealing with the work of the Sea Cadets at Cedar Creek fire reads as follows: "Captain Maude-Roxby, Fire Warden, did not reach the scene of the fire until the following day, whereas he actually arrived on Monday evening within a very short time of being notified, having, I believe, turned out of bed after his first ten minutes sleep in forty-eight hours! The visit on Tuesday was his second, and we immediately give an erroneous impression, and one which would be very unjust to the Fire Warden, would you kindly publish the true facts of the case in your next issue?"

Yours truly,
L. HARRISON,
C.O. Kelowna Sea Cadet Corps.

FREIGHT RATES ON BULK APPLES

Saskatoon, Sask.,
July 29th, 1931.

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir:
Our organization being one of the chief retail distributing channels of this section of the Prairies, having 36 Groceries Stores spread over an area of some 500 miles, we are much concerned over the proposed change in freight rates on apples moved in bulk from British Columbia to the Prairies.

This matter came to our attention some four weeks ago and we immediately took action through our local Board of Trade, who are working on the matter with the proper authorities. Since doing so we have received a letter sent out by the Salmon Arm Chamber of Commerce, and it appears very evident that the proposed change would be a great disadvantage to the British Columbia producer and in turn to the Prairie consumer in that increased prices would very considerably decrease consumption. We are writing these lines with the hope that, if the seriousness of the matter receives the required publicity, it may help in bringing sufficient pressure to bear on the authorities to induce them to leave present existing rates in effect.

Our own organization has for a number of years handled between 30 and 50 cars of bulk apples each fall (in addition to many cars of boxed) and we are satisfied that, if apple prices are increased by the amount of the proposed increase in rates, apple consumption in our territory would decline some 50 per cent for the period of Sept. 15th to Dec. 1st, which is the principal season for apple consumption here and for the movement of apples in bulk. This may appear a very broad statement, and we readily admit that in the cities and certain other places an increase in price of this extent might not curtail consumption much, but our experience is that in rural districts farmers come and load up frequently 500 to 2,000 lbs. when bulk cars arrive at a low price, and we know very well that but few farmers will do this when the inducement of the low rate is removed. It is here that we see the decline in consumption and our contention will be definitely proven correct this fall, should the proposed rate increase carry.

In theory it may be argued that consumption of boxed apples will increase to compensate the reduced consumption of bulk, but in practice this idea falls flat.

A copy of the letter of the Salmon Arm Chamber of Commerce has been forwarded to each of our store managers with the request that he engage the support of his local board of trade. Additional thereto each of our managers has been provided with a petition to be signed by our customers, apple consumers on the Prairies, and all these petitions will be forwarded by us to the proper authorities.

We are of the opinion that, if sufficient pressure is brought to bear, both from the producer and consumer territories, it should be possible to convince the Railway Commission that it is in the interests of the railways to maintain present rates and not curtail volume movement. We enclose herewith for your information copy of our petition and copy of Salmon Arm Chamber of

WINE GRAPE CULTURE IN THE OKANAGAN

Kelowna, Aug. 3, 1931.

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

There has been lately quite a lot of attention brought to the wine industry in Canada, and as in Kelowna this industry is just starting I think it is time to give a few words of warning to those engaging in it.

To grow grapes, in a new country, so as to make good wines is a long and tedious problem. All grapes make wine of some kind or another, but to make wine of quality, grapes suitable to the soil of the country must be found and this requires years of research. Probably the soils could be analyzed and grapes producing first class wines on similar soils, in Europe should be grafted on our hardy stocks, resisting our cold winters, as European grapes, in general, will not stand more than four below.

People must understand that good wine is not made, but a combination of soil, climate, and a suitable variety of grapes produces good wine, and even then some years will give a crop of exquisite wine followed by years of poor quality and no plausible reason has ever been given for this.

It is evident that the Okanagan can grow very good wines, much better than down East, for we have the sunshine and a long hot season, but we must find a suitable variety. To start growing any grapes that will grow and produce a good crop is all right for a while, but for wine we must grow the very best obtainable for the purpose, otherwise there is going to be trouble some day.

To add alcohol in poor wines does not make good wines out of them, for this does not give them the flavour or bouquet. Some wines, of world repute, have very little natural alcohol in them, but they have the bouquet.

Another point is irrigation of wine grapes. The practice is detrimental to making good wines and in warmer countries than here, such as Palestine, Spain, etc., grapes are grown even in very rocky land on hillsides and are never irrigated, and they produce very good wines.

The subject is a vast one to discuss and these remarks being already too long, I will bring this to a close.

Yours truly,
FRED DE CAQUERAY.

PETITION FOR WORLD DISARMAMENT

The Canadian Economic Association,
Kelowna, Aug. 4, 1931.

To the Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

Dear Sir,
At a recent meeting of this Association, it was unanimously decided to solicit your co-operation in furthering the object of the League of Nations Society in Canada by drawing the attention of the public to their petition for "World Disarmament by International Agreement" now in circulation.

From enquiries we have made in the district, we regret that the petition does not appear to have received the support it deserves, and as we consider it to be an excellent move towards world peace, we trust that you will find room in your valuable paper to give it a little publicity.

On February 2nd, 1932, representatives from sixty nations will meet at Geneva in an effort to effect substantial reductions in armaments, and we understand that the League of Nations Society are circulating a petition throughout many different nations in an effort to express the views of the peoples of the world that armaments and war are undesirable. Let us hope that the citizens of Kelowna may not be backward in expressing their approval of such a forward movement.

Forms may be obtained from the Postmaster, or may be signed at any of the banks or other public offices of the City.

Yours faithfully,
FOR THE CANADIAN ECONOMIC ASSOCIATION,
F. C. Roberts, Sec.-Treasurer.

WATER NOTICE

Storage

TAKE NOTICE that the Brent Davis Water Users Community, whose address is R. R. 1, Kelowna, will apply for a licence for the storage of 500 acre feet of water out of Mission Creek, which flows westerly and drains into Okanagan Lake, about Sec. 6, Tp. 26.

The storage-dam will be located at the outlet of Loch Long. The capacity of the reservoir to be created is about 500 acre feet, and it will flood about 50 acres of land. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point described as Intake K, Water Rights Map 8404, and will be used for irrigation purposes upon the land described as Part D.L. 125 E. 1/2, Sec. 22, and Part W. 1/2, Sec. 22, Tp. 26, O.D.Y.D.

The licence applied for is to supplement a right to take and use water as per Final Licences 4320 and 6183, excepting portion irrigated from Intake M, Water Rights Map 8404.

This notice was posted on the ground on the 2nd day of August, 1931.

A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act" will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Vernon. Objections to the application may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., within thirty days after the first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper.

EAST KELOWNA

An extraordinary general meeting of the electors of the South East Kelowna Irrigation District was held at the Community Hall on Friday last, to discuss with the Trustees the proposed Mission Creek flume and the water situation as at present. Mr. H. S. Atkinson acted as chairman and Mr. H. B. Everard was appointed secretary of the meeting.

Mr. Collett explained the position as regards Mission Creek. A brief had been prepared and handed to the Hon. N. Loughheed, Minister of Lands by Messrs. Hart and Collett, explaining the situation caused by the continued dry weather and consequent shortage of irrigation water and that it was necessary that something should be done to at least save the trees. There were two possibilities of further supply:—(1) from Okanagan Lake, which would cost around $150,000 for construction, plus operating expenses; (2) flood water out of Mission Creek at an estimated cost of $39,600, plus operating expenses. A full supply of water could be obtained from the latter source till the end of June, also some more in September and October. July and August would be provided for by using the reservoir.

It was explained that a fall irrigation was necessary this year to save the total loss of a large acreage, and the Government was asked to give some assistance.

A report had been prepared, (but was not produced) by the Manager, who was away on district business. Mr. Hart, for the Trustees, reported that the Manager had run a line to Mission Creek, and the estimated cost of building flume and siphon necessary, totalled $39,600. Since at least one mile above Dan Gallagher's, there would be a flume to Hydraulic Creek, a siphon, another flume to Canyon Creek and another siphon. No. 60 steel flume would be used, which the Trustees considered sufficiently large.

Col. Moodie thought that, having regard to the cost of the one inch pipe to divert the west fork of the Kettle River, the only practical scheme was the diversion of Mission Creek.

In reply to questions, it was learned that the capacity of the proposed flume would be 35 acre feet per day. The contract had been let for the construction of the work, at the rate of 24 cents per cubic yard if completed by the 15th Sept.; 23 cents by the 22nd Sept., and 22 cents by the end of September. Grading had been commenced, and it was hoped the work would be finished by the 15th Sept.

Mr. Hart explained that, until last year, there had been no need for this extra supply, and that last year half of the total supply had been pumped and that this had been the only practical way.

Mr. R. M. Grogan objected to getting half an inch per acre for his orchard; he thought three-quarters of an inch necessary. His fruit was not fit for pigs to eat and his trees were going back every year.

Mr. Hart thought that half an inch throughout the season was enough, but the Trustees had had the forethought to increase the capacity to 56-inch.

The Trustees promised to consider a suggestion to put the distributing system underground.

Mr. Grogan then moved a resolution: that all new flumes should be one inch per acre; that the report having been received, a meeting of taxpayers be called to see what amount of money, in addition to the tolls, the taxpayers would have to pay per annum to alter the system to one inch per acre.

Mr. C. Tucker seconded the resolution.

Mr. F. G. de Wolfe, Government Engineer, stated that he had received instructions from the Government to report on the Mission Creek scheme, and that it was possible to develop 17½ cubic feet per second. A recommendation had gone in to the Government for $48,000, the metal work had been ordered, and was being manufactured to that size, and it was too late to change the size—it would mean a loss on the change of size and $10,000 additional expense to increase to 29 c.f.s. An eighteen-year loan was suggested.

Criticism of the Trustees' action in this matter roused Mr. Wallace Hill, who told the electors that he thought the Trustees were doing good work, that they were put there by the electors as their representatives, and, if the electors did not approve of the Trustees, it was up to themselves to kick them out.

Mr. Hart explained that the bad situation had only developed three weeks ago, that the Trustees intended no slur on the electors, but that it was necessary to go ahead with the contract.

Herr von Benning stated that it was very doubtful whether the West fork of the Kettle River could be got into the Joe Rich Valley, or that it contained water at the critical season. He offered to take two of the Trustees over the ground, and this offer was apparently accepted.

Mr. P. Casorso was in favour of the Mission Creek scheme.

After much discussion, Mr. Grogan's motion was put, the voting being 17 each way, but on a second count, the motion was defeated by 19 votes to 18.

Mr. de Wolfe stated that in eighteen irrigation districts, under his control, 6 acre feet per annum was the maximum used on very light soil; an orchard on a gravel patch should be scrapped.

The Trustees are to consult with Mr. de Wolfe as to the repayment of the proposed loan from the Government.

It was felt that great thanks were due to our member Hon. J. W. Jones, and to other Interior members for the stand they had taken with regard to having a loan from the Government arranged.

OUTDOOR LIFE CALLS FOR NOURISHING FOOD

By AMY SMITH
Well-known Domestic Science Authority.

Off for a day or a month—in the car or hiking, boating, fishing—after a few hours you will find FOOD looms up as the biggest thing in the world. Scenery, yes—but such appetites!

Of course milk, and plenty of it, is essential for nourishing, appetizing food—and for campers or picnickers evaporated milk is by far the best choice, providing plenty of pure, rich milk, regardless of weather conditions, rough journeys, out-of-the-way camping places—and lack of ice.

Because evaporated milk has had half the water removed, you can rely on its extra richness, which can be utilized to take the place of eggs or butter in many kinds of cooking. For instance, an old guide, famous for his fish fries, told me that in camp he always dipped the fish in undiluted evaporated milk before the final coating of corn meal.

When evaporated is to be used instead of milk in any recipe, it should be diluted with an equal part of water. Remember this simple rule and you will find it successful in your own recipes. To "cream" your coffee, use it undiluted.

Speaking Of Fish—

A "fry pot" is used by Canadian guides for cooking large chunks. After dipping the pieces of fish in evaporated milk and then in cornmeal, drop into the deep fat (very hot) and fry until brown. And, by the way, take this hint from seasoned camp cooks—a very little fire of the right kind in the right place (if possible sheltered from the wind) will do the job better than a face-blistering conflagration.

A savory fish chowder is always a welcome dish in camp, and it's easily made with evaporated milk.

Fish Chowder

Cut the fish in chunks and remove as many bones as possible. Cover the bottom of an iron pot with slices of salt pork and fry out part of the fat. Remove part of the pork slices, then add a layer of sliced, raw potatoes, some sliced onions and a layer of fish. Cover with pieces of hard tack biscuit and season each layer, scattering the salt, for the pork is very salty. Repeat the process until the pot is two-thirds full. Add just enough water to cover to level of the fish. Cover the pot and simmer for one and one-half hours, or until the potatoes and fish are tender. Add one tall can of Borden's St. Charles Milk. Bring just to boiling. Serve.

Easy Hot Breads

Hot corn breads to eat with the bacon, fish or pork and gravy, are a huge success after a day in the open—or to begin the day.

Cornmeal Flapjacks

1 cup cornmeal.
1 cup flour.
4 teaspoons baking powder.
½ teaspoon salt.
1 cup Borden's St. Charles Milk.
½ cup water.
2 tablespoons melted fat (bacon fat may be used).

Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Add the milk, diluted with water, and beat well. Add the fat. Bake on a hot greased griddle or frying pan. They need a little longer cooking than wheat griddle cakes.

TINY YAWL COMPLETES ATLANTIC VOYAGE

The little 52-foot yawl Dorade, owned and sailed by Roderick Stephens, of Scarsdale, N.Y., which sailed into Plymouth harbour, Plymouth, England, July 21st, the first of ten yachts to complete the 3,000-mile journey across the North Atlantic. She made the entire trip under full mainsail and took 17 days and 14 minutes for the crossing. The trim little craft is shown as she sailed from Newport, Rhode Island, July 4th, at the start of the race.

GLENMORE

Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Griffin, of Clarke Drive, Vancouver, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Griffin on Sunday.

The lawn of Mrs. Charles Henderson's home was the setting for a very delightful party on Thursday evening, when Miss Dorothea Hicks, whose marriage to Mr. H. Hubbard is arranged for this month, was the guest of honour. Nearly one hundred friends were present, almost all the Glenmore families being represented.

A very pleasing "surprise" had been arranged and was very picturesque in the setting among the trees.

With Mrs. George Moubray at the piano, Mr. Frank Snowsell in costume sang, "I Am a Pirate King" as the opening number. His assistant pirates were Freddie Marshall, Jim Snowsell and Phil Moubray. Vincent Griffin next gave a pianoforte solo in fine style. Little Miss Kay Marshall, of Vancouver, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rankin, a dainty little player showing much promise of musical ability, played next. Although only eight years old, Kay passed with honours in the recent Musical Examinations at the Coast.

The Pirate King now gave orders to his assistants to present the pirate's treasure, a large black trunk on which was seated Miss Barbara Moubray, representing a bright-hued parrot. With dainty curtsy, she presented a bouquet to the bride-elect, while with his murderous looking knife, the Pirate King severed the cords and disclosed the treasures.

Others contributing to the programme were Mr. Macro and Mr. Lambly, who later led in community singing. After the serving of refreshments, the young folk indulged in dancing on the lawn.

The regular Sunday service will be resumed on August 16th, not August 9th, as stated in last week's issue.

Probably caused by sparks from the shack of Jim Murray, which was later destroyed with a quantity of cut wood, a fire which started on the west side of Glenmore caused much anxiety and strenuous fighting by residents on Sunday afternoon. Late into the night fighters worked to save the service reservoir and flumes and the fire was under control until the high wind of Monday fanned the smouldering embers into fierce flames again, which spread rapidly, the wind carrying burning embers into far away spots. With fires burning fiercely in the northern end on the west slope towards the lake and Knox Mountain south, great anxiety was felt by residents which increased as the wind gained in velocity. Gangs of men were hurried from town, but there was difficulty in getting them organized, as they were needed in so many places. Some of the fighters were surrounded by flames at times but came through safely.

When the hill at the north end caught, the flames billowed (it's the only word) along the north side to the east, where the fire reached Mr. P. Millard's property. On the west side it travelled more slowly, stopping west of Mr. Jack Ward's place.

Residents prepared for flight and it looked as though the homes would have to be evacuated, but as evening closed in the wind abated and with back firing Percy Millard's home, formerly the Rush house, was preserved, though his first home and the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were lost and all the trees round were burned.

The whole hill was alight and with the buildings so close, just nesting at the foot, the Wards, Loddouns, Humes, Ryalls, Andersons, Millards and Wilsons had a nerve-wracking experience. Patrols are watching carefully but the danger is felt to be past.

Much sympathy is being felt for General and Mrs. Harman in their great loss, after their former experience a few years back.

At the time of writing preparations are being made for the replacing of the burned flumes, the high trestle near the old Ecclestone property having a piece destroyed. As soon as this work is done the ranches on the west side and centre will again have water.

Wild rumours were circulated but without foundation and the Fox Farm was burned many times in rumour but not in fact.

On the west side the fire reached the lake.

No damage was done to orchards.

A boy generally gets his desserts when the pantry door is left unguarded.

THE RIFLE

Marksmanship At Weekly Practice Shows Improvement

Although the weather was intensely hot and the glare militated against clear definition of the bullseye, there was considerably less heat mirage at the Glenmore rifle range on Sunday than at any time since the end of the rainy season, and the marksmanship in consequence showed general improvement. The thirty mark being reached or passed by three riflemen at 200 yards and by five at 500 yards.

Arthur Brunette, a consistent shot in pre-war days with the Ross, made a very creditable debut with the Lee-Enfield, scoring 27 at 200 and 30 at 500. George Rose again led the aggregate with two 31's, followed by George Kennedy with 31, 30.

Considering the heat, the turn-out was very fair and augurs well for a good attendance at the next two competitions, the first of which, being the third of the four D.C.R.A. medal team shoots, will be held next Sunday. Those who intend to be present should take note that firing will start earlier than usual, between 8 and 9 a.m., so as to avoid as far as possible the extreme heat of the afternoon.

Sunday scores:

200 yards: G. Kennedy, 31; G. Rose, 31; R. Haldane, 30; R. Haug, 28; J. Martin, 28; P. Paul, 27; A. Brunette, 27; W. Maxson, 21; G. Hammond, 19; P. Noonan, 18.

500 yards: D. Addy, 31; P. Paul, 31; G. Rose, 31; G. Kennedy, 30; A. Brunette, 30; R. Haug, 29; W. Maxson, 29; J. Martin, 27; P. Noonan, 22; G. Hammond, 22; R. Haldane, 21; T. Bennett, 16.

CRICKET

Kelowna Wins Spencer Trophy

Kelowna cricketers came home from Salmon Arm in a very happy mood last week-end, and they had every right to be, for they had tucked away a fine victory over the main line town. In spite of the hot weather, a good sized crowd watched the game and were amply rewarded. Kelowna mainly through the fine work of Dunlop, who batted freely on all sides and picked out the wide ones to send them to the boundary for five "4's". Loyd, who contributed a nice 27 well played for, and Verity and Oliver, closed with 118 runs for seven wickets. Salmon Arm replied with an aggressive 22 for the first wicket and ran dangerously close with 108 before the last batsman was dismissed. The game was a real struggle and provided some rare fielding features. Bowling for the winners, Johnson took 3 wickets for 37 and Matthews 3 for 33, while Agar took one for 4.

As Lavington defeated Vernon, this gives Kelowna the Spencer Trophy. Thus another piece of silverware comes to Kelowna. Kelowna has done some excellent work this year in all branches of sport.

AQUATICS

Local Contestants Take Many Prizes At Okanagan Landing Regatta

Kelowna athletes did well at Okanagan Landing Regatta and came home with a nice lot of prizes. Harry Anderson carried away two cups, and Jack Thompson, two first prizes, P. Acland a second, and the Ryan family between them just about furnished up their house, taking five prizes back to Kelowna. Cliff Renfrew also took the first place for the fastest boat on the lake.

The Regatta was pronounced an outstanding success. Many visitors from Kamloops and Sorrento attended. Wrestling Bout Is Added Attraction For Regatta

It was not until last night that the Kelowna Aquatic Association was assured another big attraction for the Silver Jubilee Regatta next Wednesday and Thursday.

Over the wires came the news that Jack McLaughlin and Jack Strong, crack middleweight wrestlers of Seattle, have consented to stage a wrestling tournament for the entertainment of Thursday evening's customers.

This is particularly good news. McLaughlin has made a reputation for himself on the Pacific Coast and is a big drawing card, while Strong can always be relied upon to put on a good exhibition.

The tournament will be staged immediately in front of the grand stand adjacent to the Pavilion on the final evening of the Regatta, preceded by preliminary boxing bouts which also promise to be fast and interesting.

LAWN TENNIS

Singles Champion Of Canada And Runner-Up Give Splendid Exhibition Here

Kelowna tennis players and enthusiasts received a treat that the majority have never tasted before, and such as they are not likely to have the privilege of enjoying for some time to come, when Dr. Jack Wright, Singles champion of Canada, played in exhibition here yesterday, at the courts of the Kelowna Lawn Tennis Club, against Marcel Rainville, also of Montreal, and seeded No. 2 player of Canada.

If the sets lacked the sensational rushes that mark the plays of so many lesser lights, there was a beauty of action and a superb control that was both amazing and entrancing. It was a rare-delight to watch Wright's placing. Time and time again his drives landed on or within an inch or two of the tapes. His back-hand work was something to be seen to be realized. Driving with terrific force, he yet retained perfect control. It appeared that he was really stronger on the back-hand than on the fore.

Rainville also is an artiste in placing and driving. He covers a tremendous amount of ground and some of his returns were of the most spectacular nature. Smaller of build, he is somewhat handicapped against the sturdy Dr. Wright. The latter hugs the centre of the back court and seems to scarcely move but with two steps right or left slashes back the returns. One feature in his play was that he rarely hit a high ball in the air, but allowed it to bounce first, taking no chances. Playing throughout a steady—very steady—methodical game, it was not difficult to see why he is Canada's premier player. His unconcern and strategic plays would undoubtedly worry and wear down any but the first rank.

As it was, Rainville took the first set 6-1 from Wright. Rainville played sensationally and cleverly, but earned a number of points on balls into the net as Wright seemed to take some time to get the "feel" of the court. Wright came back and took the second 6-2. This set was featured by some exceptionally clever cross court plays by both players. Several of the games went to "deuce." The third set went to Wright 6-3. After tea Wright took the final set 6-2. Another noticeable feature was that only one "double fault" was served, and only four services (Wright's) were not returned. Both players have fast and accurate services, which they vary. Kelowna players should be much indebted to the Club for arranging this exhibition, which should be a veritable mine of helpful hints. The management deserves congratulations upon the excellent arrangements made for the exhibition.

Following the Singles, Wright and Rainville played an exhibition set against Hill and Metcalfe. Hill and Metcalfe are both capable and skilled were usually in proportion to the means of citizens.

Mr. Willis stated that, on the contrary, the taxpayers were those who, in the majority of cases, needed help.

All Citizens Should Be Asked To Assist

Mr. W. B. Bredin raised an important point when he declared that most single men were not taxpayers and that every citizen should be approached to help as some well-to-do were not connected with any city organization. He said that there were men receiving the dole who would not work and who preferred to collect their forty cents a day rather than labour for larger amounts. He favoured the proposal of the establishment of a community chest, but all talk of assistance was not remedying the situation as it stood today.

That the committee should find out who wanted jobs done and send men to do them, was a suggestion advanced by Mr. Ballard.

The Need Of Those Outside Of Kelowna

Establishment of a community chest was a move in the right direction, asserted Mr. W. J. Coe, but he disagreed with those who said that the whole problem of relief was not a government matter. What was to become of those outside of Kelowna—those who had made Kelowna the city it was—he asked. They were in more straightened circumstances than the average labourer, and the government should be pressed to assist in some way married men and their families.

Regarding the procuring of a relief superintendent, a man would be more satisfactory than a woman, as had been suggested. With regard to the collection of vegetables from farms, it would be a good idea to apply to the cold storage houses for space in which to store them. Referring to the foreign element which sought work at less than a living wage, he said that two Germans had offered to thin for him at fifteen cents an hour.

"If we had had some sort of an employment scheme ten years ago, we would be better off today," said Mr. Coe, stating that there should be a fund to pay into while men were employed. Concluding, he declared that, unless the government was appealed to on behalf of the farmers in the rural districts, there would be a tough situation to face this winter.

Mr. deMontreuil placed the responsibility of bringing foreigners here upon the government and transportation companies. They collected their fares, brought them over here and turned them loose, and they should look after them. The men were brought here under false pretences and would work for their board in order to live.

At this point, Mr. Willis, supported by Mr. Ballard, moved that a provisional committee be formed; which met with general approval.

The chairman said that two excellent suggestions had been made during the evening; first, the community chest, and, second, that a man be hired to look after it. He asked Ald. Jones to report to the City Council with the idea of finding a man suitable for the job. He would like to see the committee representative of all organizations as well as those not associated with any established body.

Mr. Pitt objected to a paid official, stating that three or four members of the committee should be able to handle the work gratis.

This matter was finally left to the discretion of the committee.

On behalf of the guests, Mr. Ballard extended a very hearty vote of thanks to the members of the H. for their hospitality and for calling the meeting, to which the chairman responded.

Before the gathering dispersed, Ald. Jones gave a brief talk on the nationalization of industries as applied to fire insurance, stating that some day it might be possible to have all city taxes paid through the profits accruing from a fire insurance corporation confined to the Okanagan.

players, but plainly were badly troubled with nerves to start. However, they had the satisfaction of taking two games in the set from Canada's championship doubles team. The skill of the two visitors was apparent throughout, although both Hill and Metcalfe, after the initial game, did some good work.

A crowd that taxed the seating accommodation viewed the exhibition. Groups from all points in the valley attended and were amply rewarded for their trouble. K. McLaren acted as umpire and added to the good humour of the crowd by his witty remarks during the doubles exhibition.

The Canadian Championships
Mr. and Mrs. "Turk" Lewis and "Jim" Logie were interested spectators of the Canadian tennis championships at Vancouver. "Turk" says he got a great thrill out of the finals in the doubles when Wright and Rainville met Prusoff and Driscoll, of San Francisco.

LADY LANDS LARGEST TROUT LAST WEEK

Nine-Pound Beauty Falls Victim To Skill Of Mrs. W. R. Maxson

Mrs. W. R. Maxson had the honour last week of catching the largest trout reported for that period. A 9-pound beauty was the reward for her angling skill at Beaver Lake, which body of water continues to yield fish of the bigger and better class. Using the fly and spinner, Mrs. Maxson caught a nice basket of four.

The best catch of the week was taken from Beaver Lake by "Bill" Carruthers, who caught six averaging 5½ pounds each. He used the fly and small spinner and was on a fishing excursion with Dr. Lipsey, of Calgary, his father, Ted Carruthers, and Joe Spurrier, as guide.

Arthur Lake, according to late reports, is also responsive. Jack Stirling, Leon Gillard and W. Thompson, returned from there recently with a fine catch of eight, the largest of which vied for first place in the week's record. Salmon Lake is possibly the best bet for those who are satisfied with pulling in the smaller fellows with the spinner and worm. Mr. and Mrs. D. Sexsmith found them plentiful at the week-end, when they had no trouble in obtaining limit baskets.

C. McEwan and party, of Vancouver, on a fishing excursion through the Interior, found Speck and Aberdeen Lakes to their liking the other day. They caught the legal limit and reported the fishing at these bodies the best they had encountered so far on their trip.

Adams River, at the dam, is very good. Use the white fly for best results and, if possible, cast between the hours of 4 and 10 a.m. and 7.30 and 10 p.m.

DECORATIVE WORK AT WORLD'S GRAIN FAIR

Grain Seeds The Only Material To Be Used

Following a conference with officials of the World's Grain Exhibition at Regina, Mr. J. O. Turcotte, Canadian Exhibition Commissioner, has announced that a start will be made immediately upon the interior decorative work of the magnificent new building which will house the exhibits and conference. Members of his staff at Winnipeg, Man., and St. Catherine's, Ont., are already at work preparing material for shipment to Regina. The whole of the interior decorative work will be executed in grain seeds, no paint of any kind being used.

Over $200,000 worth of material, most of which is already on hand, will be used in the interior decorative scheme. Nearly five thousand cases of grain heads of various kinds will be employed. All panels, landscape designs, friezes and other decorations will be made entirely of grain heads, seeds and stalks. Several hundred decorative glass jars, containing various Canadian fruits and grasses, will form part of the scheme.

The working model of the Prince of Wales' ranch at High River, Alberta, occupying a space of 100 by 60 feet, which was a centre of attraction at the World's Poultry Congress at the Crystal Palace, England, last year, will be set up for display in the exhibition building.

Wright and Rainville retained the honours for Canada, winning 7-5, 9-7 and 8-6.
